

WATCHING CABINET PROSPECTS PACK UP

More Ways Than One of Judging Who Will Be in Harding Circle.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, Jan. 25.—There are two ways to tell who will be in the cabinet of President Harding. One is Mr. Harding's own announcement and the other is definite arrangements made by the individuals concerned to enter public life, such as severing business connections and packing their household goods.

Definite evidence has come to the writer that John W. Weeks, former senator from Massachusetts, is preparing to take over the portfolio of secretary of war. Within the last week Mr. Weeks has sent for preliminary data so that he may make a survey of the entire war department.

Hughes Getting Ready.

Charles Evans Hughes is winding up his legal affairs so as to be ready for the secretaryship of state.

A. W. Mellon, Pittsburgh, has resigned as director of the Pennsylvania railroad and will become secretary of the treasury.

Charles Grosvenor Dawes, Chicago, who was previously mentioned for this place, will probably become governor of the Federal Reserve board succeeding W. P. G. Harding, who is about to resign.

President of the new hundred million dollar export corporation.

Mary M. Dougherty will be attorney general and Will Hays, postmaster general.

Hoover Runs Commerce.

Herbert Hoover will be in the cabinet as secretary of commerce.

Henry Wallace, Des Moines, Iowa, will be secretary of agriculture.

A. T. Hart, Kentucky, who was previously mentioned for secretary of war, will not be in the cabinet but will be rewarded by being given some other post of prominence.

This leaves the portfolios of navy, interior and labor undetermined and every one of Mr. Harding's advisers and close friends who might be presumed to include some of those who had just-minute talks with Mr. Harding before he went south frankly confess that they are up in the air about those three positions.

Indeed, Mr. Harding himself is weighing the merits of the various eligibles and probably has come to no decision as yet.

May Be Lowden.

It would not be surprising, however, if after all the talk about eliminating Lowden, the former governor of Illinois, would be asked to become secretary of the navy.

The change of Mr. Weeks from navy to war is at the bottom of it. Everybody believed that Mr. Weeks was to be secretary of the navy because he is a graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis but in truth Mr. Weeks wanted to be secretary as he is a banker. His own objection to becoming secretary of the navy was that he would be embarrassed in passing upon promotions of his own classmates who are now high officers in the American navy.

Originally it was intended to make Gov. Lowden secretary of war but since Mr. Harding was persuaded to take A. W. Mellon of Pittsburgh for the secretaryship of treasury and since he wanted Mr. Weeks in the cabinet, too, it became necessary to transfer Mr. Weeks to the portfolio of war.

The announcement that Mr. Lowden would make little difference to Gov. Lowden whether he took over the affairs of the army or the navy so the present plan is to urge the acceptance of the navy by Mr. Lowden, the Illinois man, whose strength at the republican convention was shown at the psychological moment to Harding and thus made possible his nomination.

Lowden Case Many-Sided.

It is not considered likely that Mr. Harding will start out his administration by recognizing the objections made by the Thompson machine in Chicago for the president-elect is a republican and all his sympathies have been with the Lowden wing of the party. It is also understood that men of influence in Illinois have informed Mr. Lowden that the effect of eliminating Lowden from the cabinet might be more encouragement to the Thompson wing than would be good for the republican party nationally so the matter will be given Mr. Lowden is being carefully considered. Furthermore, when it became evident that Mr. Mellon's qualifications for the secretaryship of the treasury were urged by Thompson leaders who made a convincing presentation of the case, Senator Harding was left with the necessity of picking an Illinois man for the cabinet. The vice then narrowed down to Gov. Lowden and Albert B. Lasker, president of Lord and Thomas, and one of the intimate advisers of Mr. Harding during his last campaign. Mr. Lowden's political prominence and the part he played at the Chicago convention in nominating Harding have been the factors in his favor. In his means for the cabinet, the vice is no means certain for the cabinet as last minute shifts and transfers may be necessary, but he is back again in the cabinet race, and being favorably considered for the secretaryship of the navy.

Kentucky Went for Cox.

The elimination of A. T. Hart, of Kentucky for the war portfolio caused Mr. Harding considerable pain for he liked Hart and wanted to reward him for the part he played at the convention to Harding. But Hart comes from Kentucky, which voted for Cox and it is to pick anybody from a southern state which went democratic would be to get into trouble with the republicans who carried Tennessee and Oklahoma and Missouri. Some of Mr. Hart's friends urged that he be appointed on the ground that he was originally from Indiana but the selection of Will Hays who comes from Indiana too made that impossible as Mr. Harding is not going to put two men in the cabinet from the same state.

Voice of the People

Editor Gazette:

Mention has been made in your paper that German birth obtained citizenship and lights for a fifth ward thoroughfare.

The property owners on Center avenue have paid a large sum of money for the benefit of the city and the traveling public and are entitled to consideration, though it is only the glint that enables them to see the Rest of the World go by.

It is understood that the city babies of the Third are whining because they can't shine. It might be well to give these little ones all day such as are set them in the bog of the "New High School" site—there to remain while some one with a heart and time saves humanity from the "Academy" street and the Five Points.

But, there are "real folks" in the Third and other wards of the city (glad that we are doing well) who have not blackened the fair cheeks of their patriotic ancestors by envy and graft.

These are the people who are the local community spirit who are fighting out the fire under the cauldron of cod-fish aristocracy which has bubbled greed and selfishness for so long a time.

In regard to the statement alleged to have been made by a county officer from the Fifth, relating to the so-called "German children," the poor, we will say that there will be a dumping of the aforesaid professor out of office.

The Fifth ward advocates no necessity for the return of the stockyards.

A FIFTH WARD VOTER.

Editor Gazette:

I cannot understand how anyone can be so uncharitable as to write against the effort to get money to aid the German children. Just because there are men out of work here is no good reason. There are German citizens here who are good Americans and who helped war orphans. But they are not dead to the cry of the dying in Germany or any other part of Europe. The stuff we read about Germany is more of the sort of propaganda that we hear about the war hit us—about the brutal German soldiers and all that. Mr. Hoover is raising thousands of dollars for the German orphan children and he doesn't care where it comes from. Germans or others so long as it goes to help the starving orphans.

AMERICAN.

Editor Gazette:

I have just read the letter written by E. R. S. in Friday's issue. I am a native-born American and must say it is just right. I consider it very wrong for us to be sending any of our money across the water to feed somebody, nobody knows who, but our own poor and needy are all cared for here in the United States. What would we think of any man who was giving his money away to strangers while his own children were homeless and hungry? We are only feeding those people across the sea to help them to get ready to fight us again, and we had better keep our money here that belongs here and let our own have it who have produced it.

The fact is, the "drive" business is getting to be a great business. It beats the great American game of mart a little bit because it is in a little more polite form. The smart set has taken it up. It is supposed to look real charitable for the fashionable set, together in some steam-heated parlor and plan a drive to help the poor across the water, while refreshments are served and the music plays. The affair is a public affair, and the society-headed public applauds, and so the drive business gains strength and popularity.

But while all this is going on, how about the poor in our own streets of Janesville, those to whom no refreshments are served, and who have no fire to sit by? How about those who are waiting up and down looking for work, without eating a full meal once a week, and to whom it seems that there is no place in the world for them? You can't look a little more like charity to lift some of those through their hard places and help them to get their courage again? How do we think an ex-soldier feels who has fought for his country and when he comes home and is left on the streets without any work, while we send our money away to feed his enemies and ours? I think we ought to be a little more charitable.

Now I am a woman who works for my living. More than once have I been without work for several weeks at a time in the city of Janesville. I have gone from door to door asking for work when it was so cold I was nearly frozen. I have been to the doors of many of these women who have been laid off from the so-called benevolent clubs and societies of the city. And not in one single instance have I ever been asked to come in and warm myself, or to have anything to eat. And when woman comes to your door looking for work, just try inviting them in and feeding them up on a good square meal. Not on a couple of old

Now if there is anyone whose heart is burning with the desire to do good, they need not go to find the opportunity. They can find it a good ways this side of Germany; and you women of the clubs and aid societies, just try to get a man or woman comes to your door looking for work, just try inviting them in and feeding them up on a good square meal. Not on a couple of old

MEAT PACKING BILL PASSED BY SENATE

Measure for Federal Livestock Commission Carries by 46-33 Vote.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—The bill creating the federal livestock commission, popularly known as the bill to regulate the packing industry, was passed by the senate Monday by a vote of 46 to 33.

The two floor leaders of the senate, Lodge and Underwood, both opposed the bill. The bill was passed by a vote of 46 to 33.

The bill would create a federal livestock commission of three members, appointed by the president, to have jurisdiction over livestock marketing.

This commission would have power to issue orders, collect and disseminate information, have access to packers' books and have general supervision over packers, stockyards, commission men and similar agencies.

The bill also provides rules for conduct of the packing business, and includes stipulations against monopoly, unfair trade practices and engaging in unrelated industries. Voluntary licensing of packers is provided.

Two Vital Changes.

Only two important amendments were adopted by the senate before passing the bill. One, by Senator Hiram Bingham, New York, would include horses, mules and similar animals in the operations of the bill, although horses and mules markets would be excluded from the proposed federal supervision.

Another amendment, by Senator Pittman of Nevada, would exempt all persons whose chief business is livestock growing or production of agricultural products from the bill's provisions.

Records Open to Public.

Other amendments adopted included one by Senator Borah, providing that all proceedings of the livestock commission should be open to the public, and an amendment declaring that upon enactment of the bill all supervision of the federal trade commission for the livestock industry should be terminated and transferred to the live stock commission.

An amendment by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, providing that packers give a week's notice of prices for livestock, was lost, 73 to 8.

Lennox and La Follette voted for the bill.

CITY ASKED TO SEND DELEGATES TO HOUSING MEET

Janesville has been asked to take part in the conference of the national council of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, to be held in Washington Jan. 27 and 28, when the formulation of a constructive national program for relief of the housing shortage will be undertaken.

Conflicting dates make it impossible for anyone from here to attend, however. Responses to the invitations sent out by the national chamber indicate that there is great interest in the housing shortage, and a very definite willingness on the part of business men everywhere to join hands in an effort to work out a plan for its solution.

The actual shortage of dwelling houses is estimated to be more than 1,250,000.

The program arranged for the conference takes up various phases of the housing problem. The subject will be discussed under three main headings—construction, finance, and industrial housing, with the social and civic side of the question running through the entire conference.

AT MERCY HOSPITAL

Patients admitted to the hospital during the week-end are: Mrs. O. D. Greenwald, Broadway; Stanley Slight, 110 Lincoln street; Mollie J. Cunningham, Edgerton; Richard Meredith, Evansville; Mrs. Sadler, 111 Milwaukee street; John Gunderson, Escanaba; Mrs. C. E. Owen, Clinton; F. Lee, Evansville; Miss Bessie Lake, Beloit; and Miss Minnie Schaeffner.

doughnuts made a month ago, but could not find them. There will be a good deal more real charity in it than there will in all the foreign drives you can get up in all summer.

Then there are men and women too, advertising for work every day in the Gazette. Why don't some of you charitable drive, people, give those men and women work? That is the best thing for you to do. If you know what your duty is, as the Gazette has told us many times, it is the duty of every community to keep its working force employed.

What we need is an exposure of false charity, and a correcting of public sentiment. The good Book says, "If any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel." 1 Tim. 5:8.

This scripture certainly applies to nations as well as to individuals. When the poor and the lowly in our midst are all provided for, then it may be right for us to look around and see what we can do for the rest of the world.

From the State Capital

Madison, Wis.—Reappointment of two important office holders whose terms expire this month is expected this week when Governor J. J. Blaine makes his nominations to the senate for confirmation. Miss Maud Neprud on the State Board of Control and James Nevin on the Conservation Commission will probably be returned to their positions.

Miss Neprud is the only woman member on the most important Wisconsin commissions and boards. Governor Blaine is interested in appointing the present incumbent, according to the opinion of those in closest touch with him.

Mr. Nevin, who has served as head of the fish hatcheries of the state as a member of the conservation commission for the past 28 years, will be returned, it was said, because of his familiarity with the work.

Judge Charles D. Ross, of Deloit, to succeed Nils P. Haugen on the tax commission. Judge Ross has been a prominent progressive leader in the state and is a strong supporter of the governor. Mr. Haugen has served on the commission for 20 years and as its chairman for the past ten years.

J. Q. Emery of Albion is slated by the governor for a place as the dairy and food commissioner to succeed George Weigle of Milwaukee, who will be retired. Mr. Emery served as commissioner before Mr. Weigle took over the duties.

John S. Allen will in all likelihood end his connection with the railroad commission when his term expires February 1, but no intimation has been made as to his probable successor. The railroad commission appointment is looked to as one of the most important to be made by the governor.

M. P. Blumenfeld, superintendent of public property, will be replaced within a month. His term expired January 5, but the governor has not appointed a successor as yet. The governor has notified him that he will not be kept in the office, but it is not known who his successor will be.

There are 40 appointive positions that will become vacant during the present year. Governor Blaine has decided to make appointments previous to the end of the term of a number of officials in order that the senate may act on them during the present session.

No contests are looked for over possible appointments. The senate is expected to confirm all appointments despite any political differences that they might have with the governor.

Legislative committee hearings will open in earnest Wednesday with the joint judiciary committee of house and senate taking up the prohibition enforcement bill as their first work. Ten bills, the majority relating to routine changes in existing statutes, are on the committee's calendar.

The senate corporations committee has set five bills for hearing Wednesday, including four by Senator Czerniewski. One provides for one day's rest in eight for policemen in Milwaukee; one would require motor vehicles to stop at railroad crossings; another provides for the basic eight hour day for wage workers; and the fourth would exempt from the state and federal income tax the income of less than $5,000 from the income tax.

The senate committee on state affairs will devote Wednesday to hearings on the joint resolution providing for investigation of crowded office conditions in the state capital; and bills relating to legal holidays, salaries of senate employees, and amendment of the cold storage laws.

Thursday the committee will take up Senator Denmark's joint resolution memorializing congress and the president of the United States to take the initiative for world disarmament and to immediately withdraw all American military forces from Europe and Asia. The resolution has the backing of Governor Blaine and the administration forces.

The committee has also set Senator Ridgway's bill providing for appropriations of money and issuing of bonds by towns, villages, and cities, in buying and reforesting cut-over land for memorial park purposes for hearing Thursday.

The education and public welfare committee will take up bills relating to changes in the soldier's bonus and education laws and legal holidays in schools Thursday.

The governor has no power under the statutes to declare the office of sheriff in Green, Barren, and St. Croix counties vacant and to appoint new officials, according to a statement issued by Governor John J.

Blaine. The statement is in answer to requests that the governor declare the sheriff's office in the three counties vacant and appoint new men.

In Green county, it is claimed, the sheriff resigned prior to the November election last fall and Governor Philip appointed the deputy sheriff to fill the vacancy. The man who resigned then ran for the office and was elected. The question at issue is whether his re-election violates the constitutional barrier against a sheriff serving two consecutive terms.

A similar situation is said to exist in other counties.

The governor, in his statement, says the power to appoint is clearly limited to those cases where a vacancy exists and that he has no power to decide that question. "Since the statutes provide that a 'competent tribunal' may declare the office vacant, if such court action is taken, he adds, and results in the ousting of the incumbent, he then will make the appointments."

Provision for semi-annual payment of taxes is to be urged upon the legislature again this session, according to Assemblyman James E. French, of Superior, chairman of the committee on judiciary.

He has received a request to give support to a measure which would divide the time for paying taxes and, it is said, relieve the burden which now falls on the tax-payer once a year. The yearly payment was declared to work a hardship on the wage earner.

Little support can be expected for such a move. Assemblyman French said, because of the effect it would have on existing statutes and on the tax collecting machinery. It would upset much of the present support of the committee on taxation nor the tax commission.

Similar proposals have been made in the past, but have always been defeated. It is declared by opponents of the plan that it would serve to higher the burden on the tax payer by dividing the cost.

The joint finance committee of the legislature is planning to conduct a hearing next Friday, at 2 p. m., on the appropriation bill for the bureau of child welfare and public health nursing, and on the budget for the state board of health.

Many women of the state who were instrumental in obtaining the enactment of child welfare legislation in 1919, and are behind efforts for greater accomplishments in this field are expected to attend the hearing.

The bill as it relates to the child welfare needs, calls for an enlarged budget to permit a considerable expansion of the work to meet a growing demand.

Assemblyman C. E. Hanson, of River Falls, today introduced in the assembly a bill to abolish the personal property offset section of the Wisconsin income tax law. The bill was introduced by Mr. Hanson two years ago, but failed of passage.

The measure is designed to eliminate the present provision by which individuals paying taxes on personal property are permitted to deduct the taxes paid when figuring their income tax assessment.

In 1917 Mr. Hanson obtained the passage of the amendment prohibiting the scheduling of real estate on leased land as personal property in order to obtain the tax offset. The present bill he says will correct what he considers a companion abuse of the law.

The visiting committee of the legislature, charged with the investigation of educational, charitable, and penal institutions of the state, was named today by Governor John J. Blaine and transmitted to the legislature.

Two members were appointed from the senate, Eldred R. Ridgway of Elkhorn and Oscar B. Olson of Blanchardville, as provided by statute. Ridgway is a member of the committee on education and public welfare and Olson of the joint committee on finance.

Four assembly members were chosen. Fred Hess of Waupaca, Steven S. Stolewski of Milwaukee, Elmer A. Kenyon of Gilman, and William M. Smith of Linden. Hess and Stolewski are from the committee on state affairs and Kenyon and Smith from the joint committee on finance.

The committee will visit the important state institutions and investigate their condition, as well as the conditions of the inmates and will report to the governor and the legislature, together with any recommendations that they may arrive at.

The members chosen will spend much of their time away from Madison, and will be absent on leave from most of the session because of their activity on the committee. They start work as soon as directed by the legislature.

The hearing period in cases under the workmen's compensation act, involving "schedule injuries" represented 20 per cent of the total number of weeks for which compensation was allowed for these injuries during the last fiscal year, the Industrial Commission reported today.

An analysis of 840 cases involving "schedule injuries" which occurred during the year showed that the estimate of 20 per cent for the hearing period was almost exactly correct for the average case. The more serious cases involved took up considerably more time for hearing. It was said, while the less serious cut down this period materially.

MILK CAMPAIGN GETS UNDER WAY

Full plans for the furthering of the Rock county milk campaign to increase the consumption of milk was made at the conference held Monday in the office of County Agent R. T. Glasco. Speeches and exercises will be given in both the city and country schools.

Miss Gladys Stillman, of the home economics department of the university attended. She will take an active part in the propaganda work. J. Thomas, of the dairy council, Misses Anna Lauscher, and Alice Glenn, nurses, and Superintendent of Schools O. D. Antsdick, also attended.

NATIONAL C. C. TO STUDY HOUSING SITUATION

Milwaukee, Jan. 25.—Eleven representatives of Milwaukee civic and trade associations have been asked to take part in the conference of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to be held in Washington, Jan. 27 and 28, when a national program for the relief of the housing shortage will be taken up.

Rock county farmers' interest mainly centers on the meeting next Wednesday when the State Federation of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau is formed into a permanent and more effective state organization. Dairy interests will also hold forth on this date. Every southern Wisconsin county is vitally concerned in what may develop from the Madison meeting regarding milk and milk distribution.

The dairymen want an increased market for Wisconsin milk products. This is the reason for the publicity.

FARMERS LOOK TO MADISON MEETING TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

Reconstruction of the system of marketing of farm products is what the Wisconsin farmers hope is the result from the important farm conference to be held in Madison starting next Tuesday and ending February 10. More than 200 farmers and business men from Rock county, who are interested in farm problems, are being lined-up by County Agent R. T. Glasco, to attend a part of the Madison conference.

The determination of the farmers is for a more efficient and less expensive method whereby the products of the farm reach the consumer. Each of the ten days will be devoted to some specific problem now before the agriculture interests, such as farm financing, legislation, co-operative marketing, rural organization and the transportation question.

To Attend Tuesday. Rock county farmers' interest mainly centers on the meeting next Wednesday when the State Federation of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau is formed into a permanent and more effective state organization. Dairy interests will also hold forth on this date. Every southern Wisconsin county is vitally concerned in what may develop from the Madison meeting regarding milk and milk distribution.

campaign now being undertaken in Rock county. Farmers in Jefferson, Walworth, Rock and Green counties are concerned in finding a larger outlet for their butter, the prime grade and quality offered on the market. Mr. C. Larson, E. M. Farrington, Mrs. L. Mattison, Math Nichols, Assemblyman George Nelson, Polk county, and Horace Thompson, of the farm bureau, will further the dairy subject.

Wednesday has been set aside as Producers' day. Rock county men want to hear the address Wednesday morning by J. R. Howard, president of the National Farm Bureau federation. Conference on Butte.

The butter marketing conference and the state meeting of the farm bureau, will be held in the afternoon. Thursday has been set aside as consumers' day. An address is to be given by Governor J. J. Blaine. The afternoon session of cheese marketing will also interest southern Wisconsin dairymen, especially those residing in Green county.

Friday is farm finance day and in the afternoon a wool marketing conference. Saturday is turned over to the discussion of transportation. The subject of the Great Lakes waterway will be considered on Monday, Feb. 7. The cooperative marketing plan now before all farm organizations will be the topic on Tuesday, Feb. 8. Livestock will be the order of the program on Wednesday and the convention will close Thursday, Feb. 10, named as Breeders' association day.

Keep Up Courage. Leaders during the Madison meeting will lay stress on the farmer keeping up courage regarding the prospects for the coming year. Speakers will urge the raising of fair crops this coming season and not for a curtailed season.

Three more recruits for Camp Lewis, Washington, have enlisted at the local recruiting office. They are: Ted Finch, three years in the cooks and bakers' school; Charles W. Ross and Frank Smith, in the ordnance.

CRUDE OIL PRICES ARE MARKED DOWN Tulsa, Okla., Jan. 25.—The Prairie Oil and Gas company has announced a cut of 50 cents a barrel in the price of Mid-Continent crude oil. This affects all crude oils in Oklahoma, Kansas, and Texas, and is effective at once.

The Sinclair Oil and Gas company also announced a cut of 50 cents a barrel in Mid-Continent to meet the reduction posted by the Prairie.

Thieves Break Into Pool Room at Walworth (By Gazette Correspondent.) Walworth.—The pool room and barber shop of C. W. Boonman was entered Thursday night and a large amount of candy, cigars, were taken from the pool room and the barber shop was rifled of tools and some change from the cash drawer. No trace of the robber could be found.
